NEGROES PROTEST

In no Uncertain Way Against the Treatment of Their Race—Refuse to Sing "America."

CHICAGO, March 28.—One thousand colored people refused to sing the National hymn last night and applauded the retaliatory sentiments eloquently expressed by one of the speakers. The audience gathered at Bethel African Methodist church, Thirtieth and Dearborn streets, to consider the recent southern outrages and to express their sentiments in reference to bettering the condition of the colored people. Rev. George W. Gaines, the pastor, preached a short sermon, in which he exhorted the people to consider the vital matters which affect the interest of the race with Christian forbearance, trusting to the plan of infinite wisdom to bring about some remedy for the execution of the law. After his sermon the meeting was open to the consideration of the recent cause in the south which has led the colored people to voice their protest in no unmistakable way. A decided sensation occurred when the pastor stepped forward and asked the audience to join in singing, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." A number of the voices indicated a decided opposition to this part of the program. He did not at first comprehend the situation and asked "Don't you want to sing 'America'?" To which question a dozen voices in different parts of the house answered no. One man in the audience arose and said, "I don't want to sing that song until this country is what it claims to be, 'Sweet land of Liberty.'" The preacher then started "John Brown" in which the entire audience joined in singing.

The first speaker was Col. A. A. Jones. He said that the lynching of the three men at Memphis and the young negress at Rayville, La., and the burning of a negro at the stake at Texarkana, should cause the colored people throughout the country to join in one voice to protest and send a committee to Washington to see if some plan could not be devised to protect a citizen in the south as well as in Chili.

He was followed by E. S. Murre, who claimed that the laws were in the hands of the people and that the colored citizens should organize themselves into leagues and associations, and thus be enabled by united efforts to resist the outrages.

Dr. J. Webb Curtis spoke of the outrages perpetrated upon the negroes of the south.

Sol. Taylor said that the colored man in the south had borne his sufferings with patience, which had ceased to be a virtue, and the time was fast coming when the fatal blow would be struck.

F. L. Barnett said, among other things "During the years of our freedom more than ten thousand of our race have met with violent and unlawful death, ten thousands tops lightly upon the tongue, but to the thoughtful man 10,000 murders mean something. It means 10,000 homes shocked by the brutal butchery of loved ones, 10,000 families running the smouldering embers of hate to keep them warm, 10,000 crimes for which some one must pay. Today the south stands with reckless feet upon a crimestained crust beneath which seethe the swelled and crushed, pent-up and pitiless energy of outraged humanity. One murder too many, and that spirit will break forth in one remorseless sweep of devastation and death. God forbid that day, but if it must come, let it come."

FOSTER DISPLEASED

With Assistant Secretary Nettleton and Will Ask for His Removal.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The Sun's Washington special this morning says that there is the highest authority for the statement that Secretary Foster is so displeased with the testimony of Assistant Secretary Nettleton during the pending investigation of Ellis Island expenditures that he has practically determined to recommend his removal from office. Several subordinates of General Nettleton have also fallen under the secretary's displeasure. Secretary Foster has made no concealment of his astonishment at the remarkable developments of the investigation and is convinced that Assistant Secretary Nettleton and other treasury officials have been guilty of the grossest negligence. First Comptroller Matthews is one of those who has incurred the secretary's displeasure.

THIS DEATH CHICAGO.

A Patterson Woman Asks for a Divorce From a Dead Man.

PATTERSON, N. J., March 28.—A lawyer here has under advisement the application of a woman for a divorce from a dead man. Her first husband enlisted in the war and was killed. She married again and at the death of her second husband she ascertained that her second marriage deprived her of the benefits of the law. Subsequently she learned that her second marriage was bigamous, husband No. 2 having a wife living at the time of his marriage to her. This marriage, she thinks, can be set aside as null and void, and then she will be able to procure a widow's pension.

AFTER THE BANKER.

Ralph Paige Traced to New York and the Trail Lost.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 28.—A dispatch received from New York at an early hour this morning says the detectives of this city are on the track out for Ralph K. Paige, the Ohio bank wrecker. Ex-Congressman David R. Paige said last night: My brother has been in New York for the last two days but he started back for Painesville last night. He never contemplated leaving the country, and had no cause to do so. I am in no way involved in his financial difficulty. The report that forced papers were issued in his safe I believe to be untrue."

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Don M. Dickinson Says the ex-President Will be Renominated—Hill Out of the Race.

DETROIT, March 28.—Ex-Postmaster General Dickinson, in an interview after his return from the east yesterday, made the following statement of his views on the political situation in the east. It is very generally believed in Washington that Mr Hill has ceased to be even a possibility as a presidential candidate and his recent trip south has had the effect of injuring his cause. The people of the south are much given to closely studying public men, characters and records, and they will not tolerate humbug and shuffling on the platform. Inasmuch as Mr Hill is given to that sort of things, allusion to the constitution and all such platitudes, his speeches while in the south have come far from increasing his strength there. The alarm that was felt by many southern democrats immediately after the midwinter convention in New York, and which was of a purely republican feeling at most, has been entirely dissipated and the south is declaring itself most heartily for Cleveland. The men who advocated, at a certain juncture the nomination of a western man at the head of the democratic ticket have been led to see the impossibility, during the present unsettled state of the currency question, of carrying New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Wisconsin, with a possibility of carrying Massachusetts and New Hampshire, with a western man, and the belief has steadily grown that the man who can carry those states as Grover Cleveland Mr. Cleveland is today 50,000 votes stronger in New York state than he ever was before, he enjoys the absolute confidence of the business men in both parties there who feel that with him at the head of affairs the country would be safe. He failed to carry New York four years ago because of the free trade scare, while the use of money and treachery turned the scale, but the people there were educated by the campaign of 1888, and now Mr Cleveland is more generally looked upon with confidence than any man before the people. My opinion is, from what I learned in New York, Washington and Boston—and in Boston Governor Russel told me that Cleveland was 50,000 votes stronger in Massachusetts than he is that Cleveland will be nominated at the Chicago convention by practically unanimity before New York is reached in the call of states. There are reasons, too, for believing that the delegation chosen in New York at the mid-winter convention will not hang together until the date of the national convention."

"Will the republicans renominate Harrison?"

"Yes, I think Harrison's renomination is almost an assured fact."

EXCITING SCENES

In the Landtag on the Abandonment of the School Bill.

BERLIN, March 28.—The Landtag has not witnessed in many years such an exciting scene as that of today, when the new Prussian premier, Von Eulenburg, announced that the primary education bill had been abandoned. He announced in clear unequivocal language, that the government had decided to abandon the school. The statement had an electrical effect. Everybody had expected that the educational bill would be indefinitely postponed, but the declaration that it had been abandoned was almost a universal surprise. The national liberals were delighted, the ultramintanes could not conceal their anger. They had not anticipated such a straight blow from the government, and a storm of hisses greeted the premier's announcement. The national liberals cheered loudly, and both parties got so excited that for a time it seemed as if some might be provoked to personal do vedence. The premier took everything calmly, and awaited until the excitement had quieted down. Then he proceeded with other business.

County Treasurer Suspended.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 28.—Governor Merriam this morning sent a telegram from New York ordering the suspension from office of county treasurer, H. O. Peterson. This action was the result of a report recently submitted by the state examiner showing a loose state of affairs in Peterson's office. It was shown that an item of over $1,200 received by Peterson had never been entered on the books. Peterson paid the money to the county out of his own pocket, laying the blame for the error on a deputy who had been discharged. The suspension is made under a state law giving the governor power.

BLOODY BATTLES,

In Which Thousands of Rebels are Slaughtered by the Imperial Troops.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—According to advices just received from Shanghai, the bloody engagements recently fought between the imperial troops and rebels in Southern China are said to have resulted in the slaughter of several thousand rebels. The imperial army lost only five killed and forty-five wounded. Over 8,000 rebels were put to death with the sword and 500 were actually burned alive. A number of engagements are reported. A body of insurgents numbering 300 was overtaken by the imperialists at a place sixty miles from Kuhin, and over 100 of them were killed and three of the leaders were made prisoners.

In a second engagement over fifty of the enemy were put to the sword and the remainder were obliged to retire to a parishop, the strong walls of which made it an admirable place to defend. The imperialists closely invested the building and killed over 150 of the inmates. Intelligence later reached the imperialist camp that a force of the enemy comprising 600 cavalry and 800 infantry had united with the object of coming to the rescue of their condemned crates. They were attacked in the front and rear by the imperial forces and lost 800 men during the battle. Those who escaped encountered another party of imperialists, who shot fifty of them and made a score of prisoners. Another detachment of rebels was posted at Meiyankouty, to which place the imperialists continued their march. The rebel detachment numbered about 100, of which sixty were killed and twenty made prisoners, among the latter being the so-called leader of the can guard. Li Hung Tsu, who was instantly decapitated. A still larger force of the enemy was posted in the Chieu Chang district, where they had an encampment, with guns fitted up in loop-holes in the wall surrounding the village. The churches of the new creed served as outposts of the rebel army. An onslaught was made upon their position, and after an engagement lasting two hours, eight hundred out of a total of thirteen hundred were put to the sword. About five hundred of the rest were burned alive, including stragglers. It is estimated that not less than fourteen hundred of the enemy were killed on this occasion. A great number of the adherents of the new creed were captured, including three leaders, who were instantly killed and decapitated.

SILVER BILL DEAD.

Speaker Crisp Will Not Bring in a Cloture Rule.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Speaker Crisp told a congressman this morning that he would refuse to bring in a cloture rule on the silver bill unless a majority of the democratic members agreed to support the committee on rules on it. Thirty-five free coinage democrats have refused to sign a request for a cloture and the anti-silver men are freely claiming that the bill is dead.

FRUIT HOUSE.

HALLET BORROWE.

He Once Attempted to Force a Marriage With Miss Newcomb, a Millionaire's Daughter.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The World this morning says that Hallet Alsop Borrowe was well known at police headquarters before his name cropped out in connection with the duel Colonel Payton tried to bring about. As in the Payton case, it was the result of his devotion to a lady living in New York that Borrowe came under the notice of Inspector Byrnes four years ago. The complainant upon this occasion was H. Victor Newcomb, the well known millionaire. Borrowe, it appears, met the millionaire's daughter at some social function. Miss Newcomb at that time was barely more than a girl. She had, however, many romantic ideas, and was attracted by the attentions which Borrowe began to pay her. He took every opportunity, it is said, of calling upon the young girl, and impressing her with the warmth of his affections. Professing to be a man of great social knowledge and experience, Borrowe assumed to advise Miss Newcomb and her mother about such matters, thus, on one occasion, being at their Fifth avenue house, he more than once assisted in the writing and issuing of invitations. From this it was only a step to opening up a correspondence with Miss Newcomb. Borrowe carefully read the girl's letters and laid them away for future reference. Finally the matter came under the notice of Mr. Newcomb, and he dropped Borrowe a gentle hint to be less frequent in his calls. To this, however, Borrowe paid but little attention and subsequently told Mr. Newcomb that he wanted to marry his daughter. For Miss Newcomb he said he had a profound affection, and this was returned in proof of his assertion he said he had much documentary evidence, and that no cruel parent should keep them apart. Mr Newcomb, it is alleged, then saw that Borrowe had an eye to the money which his daughter would inherit, and concluded to quickly stop his game. He consulted Inspector Byrnes in the matter. That astute official quickly formed a plan of action. Borrowe, while down town one day, was tapped on the shoulder by one of Byrnes' men, who informed him that the inspector wished to see him. Borrowe is said to have turned white upon hearing this message but at once answered the summons. He is said to have made three visits to police headquarters, during which he made a confession of and turned over to the inspector Miss Newcomb's letters. He has never bothered the Newcomb family since.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.

Another Attempt to Burglarize the Saloon of Ed. McCauley.

At 1 o'clock this morning burglars attempted to enter the saloon of Ed McCauley by breaking a pane of glass out of a rear window. About two weeks ago Mr. McCauley's place was broken into and money and goods stolen.

SALISBURY'S REPLY

Conciliatory in Tone and Opens the Way for Settlement of the Controversy.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The news of the receipt of Lord Salisbury's reply to President Harrison's note of the 22nd inst, brought Hon John Foster and Senator Sherman to the white house this morning at an unusually early hour.

They remained in conference with the president for half an hour. When they left their faces expressed inward satisfaction with the condition of things which occupied their minds.

The reply of Lord Salisbury, it is said in high official circles, while not conceding in the express terms which the United States has contended for in the recent correspondence, is so conciliatory in tone and manner as to open the way for amicable settlement of the present controversy.

It would be impossible, in the opinion of the officials interested, to make an estimate of the damages for which it may have been." Actual damages are all that can be asserted.

INDIANA FOR GROVER.

The Indianapolis Sentinel Says Gray Ought to Withdraw From the Race in Favor of Cleveland.

THE meeting room of the Indiana Democratic Sentinel has the following editorial:

The action of the democratic conventions of Orange and Miami counties on Saturday, in instructing their delegates to the state convention for Cleveland unqualifiedly express the overwhelming sentiment of those counties, as well as of the state at large. The Sentinel has taken special pains to ascertain the drift of democratic opinion throughout Indiana on the presidential question and has discovered that it is overwhelmingly for Cleveland. Certainly there is not to exceed half a dozen counties we should if there is one—in which, on a full democratic vote, Mr. Cleveland would not receive more ballots than all the other persons combined who have been named in connection with the nomination. In many counties the democrats are practically unanimous for Cleveland. Taking the state through it is an exceedingly modest estimate to say that 75 per cent are in favor of Cleveland as against the field, and that 90 per cent are for him as against anybody but ex-Governor Gray.

This being the fact, and no man who understands the existing conditions in Indiana can honestly gainsay it, ex-Governor Gray certainly owes it to himself and to the party which has so highly honored him in the past to relieve the situation of the embarrassment which his presidential candidacy involves. The ex-governor has no sincerer friend than The Sentinel, which is at all times ready to support him in any honorable ambition which does not conflict with the interests of the democratic party. But on friendly consideration for him The Sentinel has refrained until this time from saying, what it should have said weeks ago, that he is not the first choice of the Indiana democracy for president that their first choice for president is Mr. Cleveland, because he embodies the great issue upon which the campaign must be fought and is the logical candidate; and that Governor Gray's single chance of securing the nomination is as Mr. Cleveland's legatee. He can not go to the Chicago convention in opposition to Mr. Cleveland with the remotest possibility of securing the nomination. The present indications are that Mr. Cleveland will be nominated by acclamation and that no other name will be presented to the convention. Certainly nothing is more certain than that the Cleveland sentiment will dominate the convention and that if, for any reason, Mr. Cleveland is not nominated his friends will name the candidate. It is the very height of folly for any man who aspires to head the ticket to antagonize them. General Palmer understands this, and so does ex-Governor Campbell and Governor Boies and Governor Russell. All of them have declared emphatically for Cleveland, and it would have been not only a graceful concession to the unmistakable sentiment of his state, but an act of great political sagacity, had Governor Gray done the same thing long ago. It is not too late yet for him to put himself in line with the popular movement in Indiana and thus strengthen his position before the Chicago convention and the country.

"However, whether the governor is sagacious enough to do this or not, it is evident that the democrats of the state do not propose to be misrepresented at Chicago. They will send a delegation to the convention which will reflect their views and will wield the influence which Indiana should of right have in that body. The people have taken this matter into their own hands. They are for Cleveland for president and will resent and attempt to place the state in a false position at Chicago.

"The Sentinel has a high personal regard for Governor Gray. It recognizes his ability and his skill as a party leader. It would rejoice to see him nominated and elected president of the United States. It has stood ready to give his candidacy an active and vigorous support whenever such candidacy should appear as a real, honest factor in the presidential situation. But such it is not and cannot be under existing circumstances. It serves no other purpose than to divide and embarrass the friends of Mr. Cleveland in Indiana, who are an overwhelming majority of the party, and to encourage a movement which will, if it succeeds, entail inevitable disaster in November. The Sentinel cannot lend aid and comfort to this movement, even by indirection. It proposes to insist, from this day forward, that the real democratic opinion of the state shall be voiced in this city on April 21 and at Chicago two months later."

Committed Himself.

BERLIN, March 28.—Near Koenigsburg, East Prussia, a man named Paschke recently enrolled himself under the impression that he ought to take part in the same manner as the Saviour. Paschke was until recently a humble peasant, but became a religious monomaniac through the teachings of a preacher who has been creating considerable excitement in East Prussia.

After attending a religious meeting, some weeks ago at which the death of Christ was described and preached, Paschke announced that he had been commanded by God to die by crucifixion. He then proceeded to the spot where he had been told to die and nailed himself to a cross. He was found by a passer-by and cut down, but he died from the effects of his self-inflicted torture.

Mr. Warren D. Wentz of Geneva, N. Y.

Tells of His Fearful Sufferings After Gastric Fever and His Cure by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

All who know Mr. W. D. Wentz give him the highest recommendations for honesty and integrity. For many years he has worked for Mr. D. P. Wilson, the hardware dealer and member of the General Board of Health. He says:

"I was taken down to bed with gastric fever and my chances for recovery were considered almost hopeless. After 7 weeks the fever abated but the doctor said the stomach was so inflamed I could not take food in any form without producing spasms. It seemed that I should starve to death before the fever left me.

Die of Starvation

I took pepsin compounds, bismuth, charcoal, cod liver oil and malt until my physician confessed that his skill was about exhausted and he did not know what else to try. Everything I took seemed like pure poison and brought on spasms. I happened to think of Hood's Sarsaparilla and sent to the house for two or three years that I should be benefited me permanently for 6 years. I began taking it and soon began to feel better. I have now taken a little over two bottles and can truthfully say I feel well again and can eat anything without distressing myself.

Pie and Cheese

which I have been unable to touch for years. The English language does not contain words enough to permit me to express the praise I would like to give Hood's Sarsaparilla."

THE silver question ought to be kept out of the campaign this year. The tariff is the great issue.

POLICE officers found directly in duty or guilty of accepting bribes ought to be summarily dismissed from the force.

CLAUDE MATTHEWS seems to have been forced off the track as a candidate for governor, but his friends may put him in the race at the last hour.

ARRANGEMENTS are being made for a proper observance of Memorial day. The old soldier will live in memory as long as the nation exists and our people love to do them honor.

WITH its issue of this week the Decatur Democrat enters its thirty-sixth year. The Democrat, under the editorial management of Mr. N. Blackburn, its proprietor, has become one of the best newspapers of the state, bright and always newsy, and is deserving of the success which it has attained.

A GOOD many people are still living in the old world. Whereas the total population of India, according to the preliminary results of the census published some months back, was 284,614,210, further revision and examination of the returns brings out the still larger total of 288,159,692, or an average density of close upon 188 persons to the square mile.

WALT WHITMAN, the good gray poet, whose death is noted in another column, was a unique and picturesque creature who disdained the ordinary conventionalities of life and told of his likes and dislikes with such frankness that he made multitudes of enemies and multitudes of friends. In the list of American poets Walt Whitman's place is near the top.

THE new city hall drawings will be completed on March 30. Blue prints were commenced today. Architects Wing & Mahurin have had six men engaged in the work of preparing the plans, etc. The specifications will be ready for contractors to examine by March 30. The old bank block will be occupied soon as the temporary quarters of the city officers. The old building will be torn away probably in the month of May.

NEWSPAPER men have no union, but they look after each other in misfortune just as satisfactorily as if they were paying assessments every week to go into a relief fund. Instances of this are common enough, but one just now in point is that of Hamilton, the New York reporter who died from typhus fever contracted in the course of his duties. He left a home, on which was a $2,000 mortgage, and in order to relieve the widow from anxiety the Press Club of that city has undertaken to raise the money by contributions from the members to pay off the debt. There are fraternal and professional bonds that are stronger than any enforced by formal rule.

THE Pope, who is eighty-two, wears spectacles only when reading; for ordinary uses his eyesight remains good. He could see better at seventy than he could at twenty, for when young he was very near sighted. The health of his Holiness is excellent, and it is kept so by his very simple mode of life. He is in bed usually for eight hours, from 10 to 6. His meals are all of a frugal character, his breakfast at times consisting solely of a glass of milk. For dinner, which is served at 3, he takes soup, two courses of meat with vegetables and a dessert of fruit, with one glass of wine. Every day after dinner he goes out for a drive or a walk in the gardens of the Vatican.

IT is reliably reported that Mr Harmon has about determined to transfer Mr Tracy from the navy department to head of the department of state when he accepts Mr. Blaine's resignation, which these near the president declare must be very soon. It has been known for some time that in all the discussions involving questions of international law in the sealing question and its collateral issues Secretary Tracy has been the authority upon whom the president relied, and in the recent conferences he has been the head of the cabinet Mr Harmon assisted by Secretary Tracy and J. W. Foster, has looked up the authorities and conducted the correspondence with Great Britain himself Mr Wharton's functions as acting secretary of state have been confined to drawing up such papers as the president directed him to prepare.

WALT WHITMAN.

The Good, Gray Poet Passes to His Last Reward.

Walt Whitman, the "good, gray poet," died Saturday evening, at his residence in Camden, N J He began to sink at 4.30 and gradually grew weaker until the end As soon as his attendant noticed that he was failing he sent for his physician, Dr McAllister, who arrived at a quarter to 6 o'clock. He immediately said that his patient was dying and could do nothing. The end of the old man was peaceful, and five minutes before he breathed his last Dr McAllister asked him if he felt any pain, and he feebly replied in the negative.

Almost immediately before he died he said to his attendant, Warren Fitzsinger, "Warry, dish," meaning to turn him over on the bed.

These were his last words, and they were uttered so low that they were hardly audible. He remained conscious to the last, but owing to his extremely weak condition, was unable to reply to the repeated inquiries of the friends who had gathered round his bedside. These were Mrs. Davis, his housekeeper, Warren Fitzsinger, his male attendant; Lawyer Thomas B. Hornad, Horace Trouble and Dr. McAllister Mr. Whitman has been confined to bed since December 17, when he was attacked with pneumonia. Shortly after his physicians pronounced him cured, but the attack so weakened his constitution that he never rallied, and his death was practically due to exhaustion.

Whitman was born in West Hills Long Island, N. Y., May 31, 1819, and was educated in the public schools of Brooklyn and New York City and in the printing office. He worked at the printers' trade for some years in the summer while teaching in the winter. Subsequently, he learned the carpenters' trade, and, for brief periods, edited newspapers in New Orleans and Huntington, L. I. In 1847-48, he made long tours on foot throughout the United States, following the courses of the great western rivers, also including Canada in his wanderings. In the war, Whitman's brother was wounded in battle, and the poet at once joined him in camp where he afterwards remained throughout the struggle as a volunteer nurse, his experiences during that period being graphically described in "Drum-Taps" (1865) and "Memoranda During the War" (1867) His fatigue and night watching during 1864 brought on an illness from the effect of which he never fully recovered. From 1865 to 1874 he held a government clerkship in Washington, being compelled to retire in the latter part of that year on account of a paralytic stroke He left Washington for Camden, N. J., and was recovering, when, in May of the same year, his mother died suddenly in his presence. This shock caused a relapse and he has never been well since.

New life has been put into the Huntertown band, and R. J. Wyatt, Ben Simon, Perry E Simons, William Dunter, Jay Clutter, E E Hatch, B O Parker, J W Squires, George Fitzsimmons, Ernest Hatch, W H Gibbs, Carey Surface, Harry Douglass and Joseph Shauff James Grubb, formerly of the Leo and Hursh town bands, is leader. "THE SUN DO MOVE" JASPER.

A Famous Colored Preacher, Who Recently Got Married.

The recent announcement of the marriage of John Jasper, of the South Mount Zion Baptist church, Richmond, has renewed popular interest in this quaint, but truly good old negro. He was born in 1812, in Fluvanna county, Va., and was a slave till 1865, but enjoyed rather unusual liberty, and was a noted preacher among the slaves.

REV. JOHN JASPER.

After the war he became popular rapidly in the general esteem of the South, but it was his famous sermon to prove "that the sun do move" excited the laughter of the country.

But it proved much easier to laugh at Mr. Jasper than to put him down by Scripture texts. Every Sunday that he is at home many white visitors to Richmond are seen in his congregation, and by special request he has repeated his argument for the Ptolemaic theory at over 200 times. A correspondent of the Chicago Times, who heard him in 1886, gives this description:

He is a venerable three-quarter negro (that is nearly full black), with a fine forehead and very pleasant address. His text was, "The queen of the south shall rise up against this generation and condemn it," etc., and as he went on and grew more excited his language gradually changed to the plantation lingo and he looked more African. Swaying tremulously, or leaning far over the pulpit and waving his long arms, he half sung, half shouted a gorgeous description of paradise.

The tropical imagery was wonderful: "Shining banks, crystal streams and evergreen shores; golden crowns, immortal harps and never withering flowers; the sun that never sets, the palms that bear fruit and the love that never grows cold, and then the angels! Oh, my beloved brethren and sistern, the white robed angels waiting to welcome the weary soul to the supernagnolious bowers of bliss and to feed us, oh, to feed us at the tree with its twelve manner of fruits that are for the healing of the nations."

And while every one swayed back and forward in unconscious sympathy (even the white visitors) he suddenly changed his tone and told us that "they is some heah that is not heah for the love of God, but jist to catch up an carry away somefin to bungh at." He looked very straight at the white man's face and said: "But everything I give you in Scripture, and my skirts is clear, and if your faith is not have not the love of God that abode in your hearts you will go down—to—hell!" And with this cheerful assurance he closed.

Ceylon at the World's Fair.

Although the spicy breezes blow soft over Ceylon's isle, and according to Bishop Heber's famous hymn nature is so enervating that "man is vile," it has recently developed as rapidly as any country in the world, and will have a splendid exhibit at the World's fair of 1893. Hon. J. J. Grinlinton, its commissioner, is about the wealthiest man of the island, having made millions in coffee and tea, and held every important office there from lieutenant in the army to governor general.

He resigned from the British military service thirty-five years ago to locate in Ceylon. The advancement of the isle has since been rapid and the population exceeds 3,000,000, the exports are near $25,000,000 and the imports as great, the former being largely in coffee and the latter in breadstuffs and British manufactures. The Ceylon parliament has appropriated $32,000 for its exhibit at Chicago, and the Ceyloness pavilion will be constructed entirely of native materials. Though a British colony, Ceylon enjoys a fair measure of self government.

Called Her the Beautiful Queen.

There is a flavor of war, romance and chivalry about the life story of "Beautiful Queen Darinka," as her devoted Montenegrin subjects called her. She died recently at Venice and was taken to Montenegro for burial. Although but fifty-four years of age she had experienced many vicissitudes and adventures She was the daughter of a Trieste merchant, and married Prince Danilo in 1855. For thirty-two years she mourned her consort, who was murdered in the summer of 1860 just as he was going to bathe, together with the queen, at Cattaro, by one of his own subjects, whose brother had been condemned to death some years previously by the prince.

An extraordinary story was told in connection with Danilo's death. Shortly after his marriage, when the Montenegrins were fighting the Turks, the women of the Black mountain caused a magnificent flag to be embroidered for the warriors. The face of "Beautiful Darinka" was reproduced on the flag, and the wild Montenegrins fell down before it and called out, "Be thou our patron saint in the holy war." During the battle of Grahovo three bullets tore the flag; one went through the forehead, one through the heart and one through the finger on which the figure of the princess wore her wedding ring. The prophecy was that the old women of Montenegro whispered, "It is an evil omen and signifies that the Veliki Knyas, the great prince, will die young." The prophecy was fulfilled.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS.

The Wabash Company to Give Its Rolling Stock Equipment a Complete Overhauling—Notes.

An official of the Wabash road says that that company is about to give its rolling stock equipment a complete overhauling this year. All the old freight cars that are not up to the standard will be broken up and burned and new ones will take their places. Orders have been placed for the construction of forty-seven new locomotives, twenty-five freight cars and twenty-two passenger. The order will also include the construction of 2,400 new freight cars, thirty six-day coaches, ten vestibuled cars, twenty-eight baggage and express cars, eighth mail cars, and six observation cars. Upwards of 21,000 tons of steel rails have been ordered, and will be used in double tracking the lines and replacing old worn-out rails.

EXPERIMENTING WITH ENGINES.

The Pennsylvania company has ordered from the Baldwin locomotive works a ten-wheel passenger engine, compounded on the Vauclain system; from the Schenectady locomotive works a ten-wheel passenger engine, compounded on the Pitkin system, and from the same works a simple engine with 19x24-inch cylinders and a 64 foot driving wheel, weighing about 121,000 pounds. All are ordered for the purpose of investigation and comparison, and the locomotive works are not limited as to cost, the company desiring that they be of the highest standard.

A good deal of time is now lost by trains, especially heavy freights, in stopping to coal up at different stations, and the expense of starting a heavy train after such a stop is no small item. There was the same difficulty about the water supply, and this was obviated by track tanks, which the Pennsylvania railroad now uses for fast freight as well as passenger trains. If coal could be taken on in the same quick way, without the train stopping, freight service would be much expedited and longer continuous runs could be made than are now possible.

MINOR MENTION.

Nickel Plate Conductor Kesselman is laying off for a few days.

The Wabash railway is relaying several miles of side track at Logansport.

Dan Haynes, a popular railroad man of Dunkirk, Ohio, spent Sunday in the city.

Brakeman Walsh, of the Nickel Plate, is again at work after a few days' vacation.

Brakeman Johnson, of the Nickel Plate, was detained from work on account of sickness in his family.

Fireman John Myron, of the Fort Wayne road, whose headquarters are at Chicago, spent Sunday in the city.

Nickel Plate Conductors Hareh and Makepeace have returned from Valparaiso, whore they have been attending court.

J. A. Rondat, of Wauseo, Mich., is in the city with a view to making this his future home. Mr. Rondat is a locomotive engineer.

The Lake Erie and Western earned in the third week of March $64,402.04; increase over the corresponding week of 1891, $6,160.53.

Frank Van Scoyoc is running local freight between Muncie and Fort Wayne, in the place of Conductor J. C. Logan, who is sick.

Kirtland F. Booth, for twenty-six years chief engineer of the Chicago and Alton, died in Chicago Thursday, of pneumonia, after an illness of only three days.

It is stated that the Lake Shore road will soon have control of the Flint and Pere Marquette road, a step taken to head the Pennsylvania off from getting into Detroit by using portions of this road.

Roadmaster Hoben, of Fort Wayne, Chicago and Louisville, is rapidly laying sidings to the various industries on his line. The sidings of some prominence have already been put in for the Indiana Iron company at Muncie.

The Indianapolis division of the order of Railroad Telegraphers, on Thursday night, received eight new members, and nineteen new applications were received by the secretary. The membership has now reached 142.

The Railway Improvement company, of Chicago, has contracted to furnish the New York Central with thirty-three thousand tons of steel rails, weighing eighty pounds to the yard, and several hundred thousand cross ties.

The building of the Wabash company's new Detroit and Chicago line is proving a godsend to the farmers on the line of the road. The contractors are hiring all the teams they can secure, and also the idle men, and paying good wages.

It is stated upon good authority, that Carnegie, the millionaire iron manufacturer, is negotiating for the purchase of 1,000 acres of land, situated between Whiting and Clark station, upon which he will erect a mammoth manufacturing concern.

The board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad company reorganized last week for the year, re-electing First Vice President Thompson, Second Vice President Dubary, Third Vice President Green, Secretary Sims and Treasurer Smith.

John S. Glenn, formerly of this city, was nominated for mayor by the republicans of Huntington Saturday evening. Mr. Glenn is a brother of Engineer William Glenn, of the Pittsburg, and for a number of years was an engineer on the Wabash railway.

A Pennsylvania official says the laying of a second track of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road is being pushed, and before next November the Pennsylvania people will have a double-track road from Jersey City to Chicago and from Washington to Chicago.

Three passenger conductors on the Galena division of the Chicago and Northwestern and four on the Wisconsin division have been dismissed this week. All were among the oldest in the employ of the company. A female spotter is alleged to have caused their discharge.

An assessment of $2 on all members of the order of Railway Conductors has been ordered to aid the fraternity on the Canadian Pacific road. The circular calling for aid says that conductors have been dismissed because they would not withdraw from the organization. The Indianapolis division will forward nearly $600 in a day or two, and the association as a whole nearly $60,000, as the membership is nearly thirty thousand.

Logansport Pharos. "Rev. Salisbury gives to the world an invention, in the way of car couplings, that has long been called for. It removes all danger of the brakeman being crushed while coupling cars. The brakeman does not have to go between the cars to couple or uncouple them. It operates by means of lovers, in a manner that the cars can be coupled or uncoupled from either side or from the top of the cars. This is an invention that should be put into use. Salisbury is one of our self-made men, and at the early age of twenty-one immortalizes himself as an inventor, already having established a reputation as being one of the most logical and eloquent preachers of the M. E. church."

In conversation regarding fast trains, President Ingalls said forty miles an hour is fast enough for any train to be run on any western road. If scheduled any faster the chances are against its arriving at its terminal on time, and he thought it much better to have it understood that trains always arrive on time than that they were invariably a few minutes late. Running an express forty miles an hour affords opportunity to make up some lost time, but when run above that speed there was little chance to make up any time lost waiting on a connection, or by delay through some trivial accident, such as a freight car getting off the track, delaying a train a few minutes When asked about the new fast trains he was to put on between Cincinnati and Chicago, to be known as the "Columbus Royal" trains, he said: "It is the passenger men who make that schedule, but on the Big Four the transportation department arranged the schedule, and it will continue to do so as long as I am president of the road."

THE SILVER NAIL.

Hitting it Squarely on the Head.

Which Party Will Adopt the Suggestion Made by a Prominent Business Man That Furnishes a Solution of the Question?

New York, March 25.—The following article will appear in the Journal of Finance tomorrow:

The forthcoming consideration of the Bland silver bill gives special importance to the question, which is today the greatest subject before the American people. Innumerable theories have been put forth by various financiers The man of all others, however, who has advanced the most feasible and terse plan for the solution of this vexed problem, and one which is in conformity with the best business interest of the country, is the Hon. H. H. Warner, of New York City. While Mr. Warner is primarily known for his "Safe Cure" discovery, his prominence in financial and political circles, as a representative delegate of the national convention and his acknowledged ability give all his words special importance. At a recent small gathering of prominent gentlemen Mr. Warner expressed his views on this great subject freely. This fact came to the knowledge of this paper, and an interview was sought with the honorable gentleman. Mr. Warner manifested extreme reluctance to giving out anything for publication, claiming that his plans should first be announced in the platform of one of the great parties of the country assembled in national convention. When assured, however, that the interests of the country demanded the best views of the most reliable upon this paramount subject, Mr. Warner consented to talk and he said:

"The treatment of the silver question in my judgment should be a clean-cut, business-like transaction, and such as will satisfy the Eastern States with their manufacturing interests, the silver-producing States and Territories, the agricultural regions and the capitalists of the country in every locality.

"There can be no doubt that the agitation of the silver question is slowly demoralizing the business of this country, affecting the values of our securities, abroad as well as at home, and even causing, throughout the United States generally, agreements, contracts and bonds to be so drawn as to provide for their payment at maturity in gold. The enormous return of our securities from abroad is the direct cause of the large exportation of gold which has taken place within the past few months. This is having a most detrimental effect upon the standing of our securities throughout the world You will find that the conservative foreign investor has become alarmed at the continual agitation of the silver question in this country, and has been disposing of American securities because he knows he can receive gold for them, while there is danger in the near future of his being compelled to accept silver. Foreign investors become satisfied that inevitably there must be a depreciation of American securities, owing to the determined effort of our people to make silver the principal circulating medium of our country.

"At present the subject is being handled by legislators and the political parties of the country about the same as physicians treat kidney and liver symptoms."

"I do not understand you, Mr. Warner."

"Why, it is simply this: They treat the effects of the evil without attacking the real cause of the trouble. In other words, physicians treat symptoms of kidney and liver disorders, and call such disorders diseases, when in reality they are but simptoms of kidney and liver disease.

"So legislators and the political parties of the country are devoting their energies to effects, without curing the cause, and are thus ruining one of the most productive enterprises of America, without regard to the national financial health.

"Conscientious physicians and our most enlightened citizens have become satisfied that Warner's Safe Cure puts the kidneys in a healthy condition, and by so doing, the symptoms that arise from kidney and liver disorders, and which are treated as, and called disease, are removed, because when these two organs are in a healthy condition, such symptoms, which are called by many diseases, will not be known, from the fact that healthy kidneys and liver prevent the symptoms which are falsely called disease.

"So I claim that when we remedy this evil, which is attacking our national health, and the effects of which are felt in almost every business of the country, whether it be agriculture, manufacturing or financial, will be benefitted, from the fact that the real cause is put in a healthy condition by restricting the importation of silver to this country."

"This is all quite true, Mr. Warner, but what do you propose as a remedy?"

The gentleman thought carefully for a moment, and then said: "I have a plan which I believe will solve the problem completely. It is this: To begin with, I would place a nearly prohibitive tariff upon all importations of silver ores, or bullion, varying the duty from time to time as might be deemed expedient by the secretary of the treasury. In short, utilize the experience gained in this direction by the banks of England and France in the regulation of the gold circulation of the world. By this plan the present standard silver dollar, worth but about seventy cents, would again gradually advance to its par in gold, as was the case when the question of free coinage was being agitated, at which time it sold at about $1.21 per ounce, against ninety-one cents, the present price Why should not silver, which is one of the largest productions of this country, be protected as well as wool, cotton or iron? By this method our silver mining industries, which are now being shut down, owing to the low price of silver, would rapidly re-assume the prominence so recently attained, and the demands of our country for silver for coins and the arts would be supplied from our own mines"

"In other words, Mr Warner, you would properly protect silver mining industries the same as other industries and products?"

"Precisely By this plan more than $35,000,000 worth of silver now produced annually in Mexico would not have access to this country Why should we be made the dumping ground for their ores and bullion produced by the cheapest labor known, and which now come into this country by the train load? I would then permit the free coinage of all silver produced in the United States, and, although I am aware that the industry would assume proportions never before realized, the product would be no more than is required for coinage and the arts As it is now, much of the silver for these purposes comes from Mexico and abroad, and we are the sufferers As it would be under the plan proposed by me, a great industry would be stimulated, manufacturers would be benefitted, agriculture assisted and the prosperity of the entire country assured. This plan would not mean unlimited coinage, but would confine it entirely to the productions of this country, which all statistics will show barely supply our requirements."

At the time, when the silver question is prominently before the people, the words of Mr Warner came with special force, both by reason of their good sense and the valuable plan they contain

Circulars and other information of all reductions are constantly in possession of the principal agents of the Nickel Plate If inquiry is made of any agent of the Nickel Plate not fully informed on the subject, the information will be procured at once and by telegraph, if necessary. Needle, is Not Used at the Cobtentz Cure.

An Innocent, Effective Method of Curing the Drinking Habit,

And Prices Only One-third of Those Charged at Other Institutes.

Recent dispatches contain the following: "There is just now an epidemic of wife murder, and the strange feature of it is that every week's record contains four or five cases just alike. There is a painful monotony in the circumstances—an attractive wife, a surly, hard-drinking husband, poverty, jealousy, murder and suicide!

In view of these facts it is not surprising that good men and women in every part of the country are lending heart and support to the grand work of establishing Inebriate Cures. All seem willing to unite on this common ground of reform. Pulpit and press, with but few exceptions, have recognized in this movement that element of practical good, totally wanting in the chimerical schemes of the prohibitionists, or the tissue paper policy of our law makers As there are many cures, WHAT SHALL BE THE TEST OF EXCELLENCE? We answer The one in which simplicity combined with excellence is the chief factor does away with the dangerous use of the hypodermic needle, often a fatal instrument even in the hands of the experienced practitioner, who perchance may fail to direct the incipient poison in the patient's blood.

Our local patronage is increasing daily with most satisfactory results. Below we append an extract from a recent letter. Our testimonials are all unsolicited. Those who feel any delicacy in regard to treatment, may be assured of the most sacred privacy:

"I can simply say you can cure any one that will help live up to your directions, and not realize the least inconvenience or realize they are taking anything at all. I slept well, had a good appetite and went on with my work just the same as ever I did not want anyone to know it and kept it a secret for twenty years, but now am glad to say well, and proud to say it, and cured by J W. OF INTEREST TO PURCHASERS OF

DRY : GOODS

It may not be generally known, but it is nevertheless true that Stewart & Hahn import a great many of their goods direct. That is, instead of buying them from an importer in New York who has to charge a good round profit for his trouble, Stewart & Hahn buy the goods on the other side, pay the duties, and have the goods shipped direct from the custom house in New York to Fort Wayne.

This enables us to give our patrons better values for their money than can be obtained elsewhere.

Just received by the Anchor Line steamer Anchoria, four cases of Lace Curtains, one case Madrass Draperies and Tinsel Tidies.

We save the middle man's profit and give our customers the benefit.

Don't buy any of the above goods until you have examined our stock. We make no misstatements to do business.

We are showing the most extensive line of wool spring Dress goods in this city, from the lowest price to the high novelties, at a moderate profit.

Our Cloak and Mantle Department is enjoying a decided boom. All the goods are new, and selected for their style and durable qualities.
